That's why we tested 85 sets to find the best ones to recommend in the current issue of Good Housekeeping. Since we know everyone has their favorite type, we broke them down into four categories: Sateen, Percale, Flannel, and Jersey. In addition to having a consumer panel evaluate the feel of all 85, we also put them through rigorous Lab testing. Here's what we looked for: Did they shrink? How do they look after washing? Did they pill? How strong are they? If they get a small rip, will they resist further tearing? Will the color rub off onto pj's or a comforter? After 5 washes, will they still be the same vibrant color? Will they fit on an oversized mattress? Can't wait to find out which were tops in our tests? Check them out in the March Good Housekeeping, on newsstands now. And when you're out shopping, measure the depth of your mattress. Then when you're in the store, before you buy a set, make sure they're a little larger to leave a little room for shrinkage. If you're very particular about your sheets forming pills, stay away from flannel, a few times before you use them to get the extra lint out of them. Say the next letter is sound as you write the next letter is sound as you write the next letter in a word. Say the next letter is sound as you write the next manuscript writing and doesn't use as many starts and stops. Cursive writing helps children see the end of one word and the start of the next word. What was that? Yes. Practicing cursive offers an "Aha!" moment for some reluctant readers. When they see the break between the words in their own handwriting, they often make a better association for where words start and where they end in their reading, certainly in their handwriting. :-) Cursive Writing Instructions for adults is the same as for children. A beginner is a beginner is a beginner. Learning how to write in cursive as an adult can actually be easier, especiall if you've been printing with an italic hand, meaning your letters already slant as if for cursive script. Best advice? Long story short? Connect the letters as you write. You can learn style as you write. You can use the smaller font and less paper. No sense trudging through larger handwriting to learn cursive. It is the same for basic cursive practice sheets for older kids and high school students. Keep it short and sweet. 1. The Alphabet In Cursive Hi! (Amazon) The Writing Road To Reading Book Basically, there are five cursive strokes to add to the manuscript letters. Romalda Spalding has an excellent description in her book as she makes cursive seem easy. The whole lesson is only six pages and can be taught in just a few classes. Truly, I've seen even small children learn to write in cursive in just two weeks using what she wrote. She taught several general rules like "All letters sit on the base line." Then she writes that you should teach the terms for the five strokes as you show how to connect the letters: A short upswing from the base line." base lineA short upswing that curves over to 2 on the clockA short dip kept at the mid point. A short dip that curves over to two on the clockYou can read more about using her book for teaching writing.
